Absolutely - I can't find the previous email but it may have been lost during the few days they moved my email box from London to Houston - I know I had a lot of lost emails - do you have his phone number and email and we can sort out a password for a few days for him too.

Louise,

Some time ago I sent you a message regarding Ed Krapels. He is writing a book on energy commodity markets and would like to learn more about EOL.

Can you give him a call and chat with him for 10 minutes. He is a good friend of Enron and it would be free ad for us.
